Lunch and Learn is a component of Multicultural Academic & Support Services. MASS is an office designed to provide guidance and support for Multicultural and First Generation college students at UCF. Through our programs and resources you'll learn valuable skills, meet new people, and learn how to succeed in college and beyond. We are here to help you achieve your goals. We're a community. We care about you.

MASS Lunch and Learn Description and Requirements

Thank you for your interest in the Lunch and Learn Program. Take learning out of the classroom--and out to lunch—with a UCF faculty or staff member. Best of all, lunch is on us! Conversing with a faculty or staff member outside of the classroom and the office opens additional opportunities for important interactions.

- ✓ Fill out a Lunch and Learn Request Form and bring it to the MASS Office (SU 154)
- ✓ We will provide you with TWO FREE Meal Vouchers (one for you and one for your faculty member).
- ✓ Go to “lunch” with your faculty or staff member at:
 - Smoothie King (Student Union)
 - Toppers Creamery (Kiosk near Library)
 - Qdoba (Student Union)

What students and faculty are saying about MASS Lunch and Learn...

“Lunch and Learn was a great experience as I learned so much more about a faculty member. That made the faculty seem so much more real to me”-Kevin Choy, Biotechnology Major

This was a wonderful chance to sit down in an informal setting and just talk with a student. She came prepared with several good questions and this format allowed us to really cover those items. We also had a chance to discuss these issues in relation to life outside of school and her long-term plans—Dr. Jonathan Decker-Assistant Professor, Nursing

“Lunch and Learn was an amazing experience. If I hadn't participated in the program, I would still be lost on the steps I need to take to successfully complete my undergraduate degree and deciding whether or not to go to graduate school. The professor put everything into perspective and gave me some amazing resources that I will always be able to use, even throughout my future career”-Faith Santiago, English/Journalism Major
